Non-Award Accounting and Law Units via Distance Education

non-award law and accounting units

UNE offers individual units of study in Law and Accounting for overseas trained professionals who wish to practise in Australia. The majority of non-award law and accounting units are offered in one semester per year – either first semester (February - June) or second semester (July - November). Students should check unit commencement dates before submitting an application. A limited number of accounting and law units are also available in Summer Semester which runs from, November to January.

law

UNE offers bridging courses for overseas trained Legal Practitioners who wish to practise law in New South Wales, Australia. A person who has attained legal qualifications overseas is required to apply for recognition of qualifications to the New South Wales Legal Profession Admission Board.

The Board will assess the qualification and recommend a course of study that will enable admission to practice Law in New South Wales. Further information on overseas recognised qualifications and how to apply can be found through the following link:

<http://www.lawlink.nsw.gov.au/lpab>

Please note that UNE only offers units to meet the LPAB's Academic Requirements. Students will need to undertake additional Practical Training to meet the LPAB's Practical Legal Training Requirements.

More information on these courses can be found at <http://www.une.edu.au/courses/2010/>

Application and Admission Information

Fees Non-award accounting and law units are AUD1937.50 each.

Examinations Some non-award units require students to sit a final exam as part of unit assessment. Examinations for international distance students are held at nominated overseas centres, and students are required to travel up to 300km to an exam centre and are also liable for a cost of AUD200 per examination. Distance students are advised by letter of the date, time and place of their examinations, approximately eight weeks prior to the commencement of the examination period. Information on which units have examination requirements can be found online at <http://www.une.edu.au/courses/2010/units/atoz>

Applications International students should apply for Non-Award Units using the International Student Admission Application Form online at <http://www.une.edu.au/imp/apply/applicationform.php>

accounting

The entry requirements for CPA Australia, Institute of Chartered Accountants Australia (ICAA) and the National Institute of Accountants (NIA) can be satisfied by completing individual units of study at UNE.

Candidates should apply to CPA Australia, ICAA or NIA for a written assessment of their particular education program for membership (please note that fees may apply for these assessments).

ICAA – <http://www.icaa.org.au/>

CPA Australia – <http://www.cpaaustralia.com.au>

NIA – <http://www.nia.org.au/>

Students who need to complete a number of units should also consider UNE programs including the Diploma of Commerce (an 8 unit degree in which candidates are able to enrol in any combination of units, suitable for students who need to complete additional units for CPA, NIA or ICAA recognition), Graduate Diploma in Financial Management and the Master of Business Administration (Professional Accounting). These qualifications are accredited graduate conversion programs for CPA, ICAA and NIA registration. The University also offers membership progression awards for NIA members including the Master of Commerce (Professional Accounting) and the Graduate Certificate in Professional Accounting.
