Presidents Report

G'day mate! Not much has been happening since we met last time. Most of the gossip has been poached by the South Court president. The man coming in close second to Tipper, Ron pon himself. We had a good devils last week with a good turnout for the golden oldies them, best dressed went to Kate Justin and Cooko! Wednesday day night saw the mighty blues get up in a hard fought match in the origin with a good turn out from college. Saturday was the day second grade took on the old boys from Glen Innes with Pat "SPERMINATOR" Harton having good day out. Sunday we had Salvation Army Red Shield Appeal, with around 25 robbers taking part in collecting money for the needy. Good job Chis. Team Randy Go-Cat ended up the victors on the day ($100 cheques don't count, sorry Webb). MB/PT is also running well with Chaff and Spotty doing a ripper of a job! All in everything is running smoothly, Good luck for exams, head down bum up!!

Cheers
Brenno

South Court News

The south court hoodies are nearly in so if you ordered one get your money to me as soon as possible. South court is continuing to be the premier court within Robb so lets keep that up. Not much has been happening since the last report but here are my few highlights

- Congratulations to the SFK music group and SFK art group
- Will Brennan managing to use his presidential powers to rig the art show

- Parent student ball was a hit with Sheep impressing all the parents with his manners
- The fresher boys brave camping adventure where they battled some of natures harshest element, Kangaroos, deer and safety and security and only just manged to put up their tent.
- The polices raid on the Art Show
- The A team coming out of the closet
- Ned Kelly appearing at the Gents Club
- Brenno and his Vanilla massage oils
- Gun
- Kate and her sexual assault of the weasel

Good luck to everyone in the up coming exams. I got a HD last time no biggie.
Cheers Hobbo

North Court News

Its been a slow couple of weeks since the last Robbers was put out parent student ball was a big hit with the Jorgensons approving of Schnitzel and Sheep slowly learning the correct conversational etiquette for meeting parents. Other than that the north court hoodies should be in soon so have your money ready and say hi to your mom for me (borrowed that from Rove)
Peace Out! Tody

West Court News

Hey guys bit of an update for the West Side. Life in West court is superb with lots of fun and frivolity. Mustard is still the big red ball, making dreams come true. Stomp is still lurking through the dungeon. Webby is over his ordeal. Brae hosted Kollo's 50th (great night). Happy Birthday to Kollo! Hoodies are definitely underway and Dim has a sweet new

Tip Of the Week

Stay Away From Tents, Deer's and Fibre Optic Cables!

nickname on her hoodie 'Horse-mumbler'.

To the serious stuff. Parent student ball was enjoyed by everyone, whether they were at the ball or not. The boys shared drunken stories with my little bro. The snowball fights were brilliant at both the ball and, for all the orphans, through the colleges.

Just want to finish with lots of luck to everyone with your studies. Study hard and then enjoy the relief after. So good luck guys!!

Cheers,
Stevo

Parent Student Ball

The Parent and Student Weekend was a great success and in particular, the Annual Ball. As the 21st Annual Parent Student Ball, the 2008 committee just pulled off the biggest one on record. The Wright Centre was proved to be the perfect location, holding together a total of 389 guests, 79 more than last year. The table setting, the food, the entertainment, the wine and not to mention the fairy lights and snow, all made the night one to remember.

The Auction had astonishing success pulling up with $10,000, which is almost $4000 more than last year. On top of this, the event itself made an incredible $4,091, $1000 more than last year, which will be put into the JCR, and used to contribute to the more good times yet to come this year.

I hope you enjoyed the evening, both with and without parents, as many I know said it was a beautiful night and great chance to meet friend's parents. It was lovely to hear from Jan, Wal and Mrs Brennan. We thank them, along with the Hobden's and the Almond's, who made the Sunday headaches well worth it, for making such a significant contribution to the night. It was an honour to be such a part of the evening and although there are always the stressful moments in the production, it was a wonderful night and I am already in the makings of Robb Ball, looking forward to making it as much a success!

President of P&S 2008

21st Annual Robb College Art Exhibition:

The 21st Annual Art and Craft Exhibition was a huge success with over 80 exhibits. The JCR was transformed thanks to many people's efforts, some black fabric and all the art works into a gallery that almost rivaled the Louvre.

The opening night was an elegant swanky affair, with all members of the community including the police gracing the JCR with their presence.

The standard of this year's exhibition was highly professional and original. Andrea Gledhill, member of the SCR and former curator of NERAM had a difficult time judging as she was so impressed by all the student exhibits. After much deliberation Brenno was awarded the Maxwell Webster prize of $450 for his Bush Birds (who knew Brenno was such a SNAG) and Lynese was awarded the inaugural Robb photography prize for "At a day's end". Special mentions were awarded to Noodle and Tash for the amazing brush techniques and attention to detail.

The results of the SFK art show rectifying just how good the students at Robb are with Robb being awarded 1st place. Spotty won the photography section and Noodle the painting section with Tash coming 2nd. Brenno came 1st in the craft section with Muff's whip being awarded 2nd place.

More exciting cultural news, Robb together with the JCR, the Foundation and Alumni have purchased Velvet by Heather Cohen (local artist) which will be unveiled sometime during semester 2.

Congratulations to everyone that exhibited work it, it was a fabulous exhibition and you should all be very proud of yourselves. Thanks to all those handsome and quick thinking boys that waited at the opening, all those who dismantled then resembled the JCR, everyone that ran around doing odd jobs, the girls that sat on the door selling raffle tickets, Barb and the office girls for collecting and returning the works, Cam for all his handy man efforts and Jan for her help and support. And a special thanks to Cappy, Skye, Fordy, Smash and Lucy for hours of work and artistic flair. Everyone's efforts was highly appreciated, it couldn't have happened with out the help of all you robbers- its great to see the Robb Spirit.

Netball Report

The parents weekend clash against Albies came away with mixed results for the Robb girls. The conditions were tricky for with wet courts and slippery balls, and everyone had a good go at it considering. A grade held Albies out for the four quarters and came away with a 19-15 win.

In the A reserve grade, Robb 1 went down to Albies, and Robb 2 managed to pull off a 2 point win 20-18. The remaining B grade and C grade games were technically washed out as the courts were too wet, but our two teams took on Albies in half games on the indoor courts, for some good competition.

Well done everyone!

So far the seasons kicked off well with around a 50% win loss record for the Robb teams so lets enjoy it and keep up the enthusiasm girls!!

Cheers
Ruthy
