South Court Cocktails

The 2005 South Court cocktails were a success once again, with revelers donning the afro for the Saturday Night Fever theme. Congratulations go to Shelly for winning best dressed individual, however the excellence that she displayed was quickly diminished by the antics on the catwalk by Cozza, Coxy and Co. It was truly a distasteful affair and not an accurate portrayal of real Robb men. Thanks to the social club for all their help in organizing the event and also those who attended. This does not include Angus (Rude) Harrowell who displayed poor form by dogging his friends in a Houdini like manner to go on a Leyland Bro's tour. THE END. Timmy 'Tigger' Bryant

Parent Student Weekend

That's right kids ... time to show your parents why Robb College has already changed your life for the better, right here on campus! The Parent/Student Ball is always a worthwhile event to attend and lets face it ... when are you ever going to get the chance to have a couple of cold ones with your olds at the Stro?!? Having a beer with my old man at one of Armidale's finest establishments is one rare opportunity I am not going to pass up! So girls, frock up, and guys ... have a shower, coz this is one event you won't want to miss!!!

Don't forget all of the other activities Robb has to offer on this weekend. The Netball and Rugby matches on Saturday are always action packed and a great way to entertain your parents for the afternoon! The main event at the Parent Student Ball is the Auction. Please donate items generously in support of Robb. Items can be handed to Hannes or Clarky. There's also the brunch on the Sunday and the Art and Craft exhibition which will display Robb's ever present 'creative side'!

North Court Luncheon

Well well, what a day! Thanks to Sinclair and his tireless team of coordinators, another successful luncheon was had by all. It truly was a fantastic day demonstrating outstanding fashion efforts and charismatic flare. Our guest speaker, Stuey Bull Rider, was a little worse for ware sporting a buggered up leg after a treacherous bull got the better of our little ex-North Court Preso! Sinclair's speech also captivated the audience's undivided attention as he displayed his wonderful way with words yet again. The afternoon seemed to fly by as the guests drank feely, hunted game, or simply lost their ability to stand up straight! However the individual chose to endure the event, one aspect appeared extremely clear ... everyone had a wonderful day! So here's to the NorthCourt team for putting on such a successful event.

Rugby Report

Good fellers, a very solid performance from all grades on the weekend against Albies Muppets. It's good to see sensei Hollingworth unleashing his weapon of choice, Brendon "Chucks Apprentice" Cox, early in the first game with devastating effects. Albies were also reduced to cannon fodder under the assault of Wikky Wokky Gay Names WoWo. Gog Straahl, albeit suffering the effects of drinking cosmic quantities of grog, also held his own. The second match saw Robb Green Colts give a 45 point head start to Albies before they shed their ballet dresses. It was to no avail. Disco Stu traid tried to soften skulls with his arm but ended up with Ness feeding him with a baby's spoon. Opens White made a mockery of Albies. Albies Smithy thanks Steele for fracturing his face while Frankie moon walked his way down the side line for 4 big ones. Loc Toc, with the work rate of a racing snail, also had a sniff of Albies in-goal. Desperate to regain his beautiful man title from rival backrower Hard-on Hardie, Yohanzel Monaghan was reportedly seen paying reporters to get his picture in the papers post match. Green Opens stuck it to Albies 1st not unlike Gibbo is stuck on dragon slaying. Toddy wore out the defence by insisting they pick him up and drop him on his head while Captain Insaino Bryant tackled them to exhaustion. Not unlike the thieving cuckoo shrike, who steals eggs from other birds nests, Boori made his comeback with a champagne display of criminal like ball theft. Inspired by the opposite sex, Rude Harrowell proved once again way to hot to handle outside.

Lets get into the fitness and training boys for the home game against Glen/Guyra and Barbarians this weekend.
