Proposed Topic Title:

Name of proposed supervisor with whom you have discussed your research topic (NB: It is the student's responsibility to approach a member of the School of Humanities academic staff about supervision of their project and to do this BEFORE submitting this form otherwise it will NOT be processed:

Please also attach your typed research proposal (approximately 1000-1200 words of a written cogent narrative of the topic) to this application (see below Requirements for details requested).

Requirements:

Students are required to submit a 1000-1200 word research proposal (not later than 30 November of the year prior to enrolment) containing the following:

A written, cogent, narrative proposal of the topic, which must include:

- a thesis statement, and/or a problem to be solved, and/or a question to be answered, and/or a line of argument to be explored;
- the main thrust of the research, its central issues or questions, and any relevant secondary concerns;
- why the research project is important, how it fits with existing scholarship, and how your work will contribute to knowledge in that field; and
- a preliminary bibliography which enumerates the sources (both primary and secondary) upon which the research will be predicated. What are the sources and in what ways are they relevant to the proposed research topic?

Supervision Acceptance:

The School's consideration of your application is based upon a variety of factors including but not limited to the following:

- Your academic record;
- The availability of appropriate expertise in the proposed topic;
- The viability of your suggested topic.

It is important to gain the supervisor's agreement that the research project is ready for assessment.
