Korean representative traditional folk song

Arirang's Meaning

“Arirang” is a Korean folk song, sometimes considered the unofficial national anthem of Korea.

Arirang is an ancient native Korean word with no direct modern meaning. But it is the name of a Korean mountain pass.

Nobody knows who made this song.♪

It has been sung for more than 600 years.♪

Titles of different versions of the song are usually prefixed by their place of origin.

At first, it was the song of ladies who had to send their husband somewhere. But it became a popular song when Korea was ruled as a colony by Japan in the early 20th century.♪

아리랑, 아리랑, 아라리요...

아리랑 고개로 넘어간다.

나를 버리고 가시는 님은

십리도 못가서 발병난다!

Arirang, Arirang, Arariyo...

Crossing over Arirang Pass.

Dear who abandoned me [here]

Shall not walk even ten Li before his/her feet hurt.

“Li” is a Korean unit of distance. 10 Li is about 10km.

“Dear” can be sometimes a husband, one’s country, nation or a friend who one never wants to break up with!
