How the Library Supports You

The Library offers you access to books, journal articles, videos, newspapers and much more in print and online.

We have a range of services to help you find and access the resources you need for your assignments and you can find details online from the Services for Students page.

If you are here on campus some services for you are:

- The Service Desk: get quick answers or referrals to experts from our Service Desk staff.
- BookALibrarian: book yourself time online with a subject specialist to help you find the best resources and learn more about our services.
- Live Chat: get quick answers wherever you are. Chat is open Monday to Friday 11am to 2pm and Monday to Thursday 6pm to 8pm.
- Subject guides: find key resources for your subject plus assignment help.
- Subject specialists: contact details for our subject specialist librarians.

Some key Library sites:

- What you can borrow and what to do about fines?
- Borrowing from home
- Borrowing from other libraries: make use of local university libraries wherever you live.
- Check the list of common problems if you can’t access online resources.
- If you’re on campus, try attending one of our classes.

Every second year the University Library conducts a client survey. The purpose of this survey is to identify major improvement opportunities within the library. The survey also helps us to benchmark our performance against many other Australian university libraries.

The next survey is due to commence mid-August 2015 and will run for approximately 4 weeks.

By completing the survey you will not only have the opportunity to let us know what you think about the services and facilities offered by the University Library but you will also be eligible to win a great prize.

Results from past surveys can be found on the library website http://www.une.edu.au/library/about-us/corporate-information/library-surveys

More information about the 2015 survey will be available soon.
Seating Survey - Coming soon

Seating surveys have been conducted in the past throughout the Dixson Library as part of the ongoing evaluation of the Dixson Library refurbishments, and to inform future refurbishment decisions.

This type of survey is simply a matter of counting heads at the various types of seating available in the library. Staff will collect these details every two hours during the opening hours of the library for the entire week.

The next seating survey will be conducted from Monday 11 May to Sunday 17 May, 2015.

Library Quick Tips - Coming Soon

Library QuickTips will soon be launched on the Library Twitter account. Library QuickTips will be short, informative videos with useful tips on anything relating to finding and using Library resources effectively: using Summon, finding journal articles, finding course readings, borrowing, and many more.

The interactive videos link directly to related resources for more detailed information. Follow the Library Twitter account now so you are ready for the first Library QuickTip:

The University has established a new writing centre. Located initially on Level 1 of the Dixson Library during the pilot phase, the writing centre is a designated place to support writing by all members of the University community.

UNE Writing Centre will be a place to go to write as well as to find help with writing. This help may include such areas as essay writing, scientific writing, turning high level writing into publishable work and working in specialised writing genres.

In First Trimester 2015 the UNE Writing Centre will offer workshops by the Academic Skills Office and the School of Arts, and it will also be the home of new peer writing tutors.

We have significant publisher collections of reference items online including Oxford Reference Centre, Science Direct reference books, and Access Science.

Identified by the librarians, subject specific reference resources are available in our Subject guides, such as the Orb (medieval studies), The Oxford Encyclopedia of Theatre and Performance (theatre guide), and the Encyclopedia of Substance Abuse Prevention, Treatment & Recovery (psychology and health guides).

Information about the program of activities will be displayed within the Library, on the website and through blogs and other media channels.

For anyone seeking more information about the UNE Writing Centre and its programs please contact the Manager of Business, TALS, Robyn Halloran (robyn.halloran@une.edu.au).

eSkills 2.0 is a series of online tutorials to help you with your university assignments.

The first series is directed towards understanding and responding to the requirements of a university essay, including:

1. Understanding your essay requirements,
2. Searching for information,
3. Evaluating the quality of information,
4. Writing your essay,
5. Referencing your essay.

These tutorials will be available before Trimester 2.

Watch this space. More tutorials will be coming soon.

Your online library account

Log into your Online Library Account from the Renew your loans icon on the library homepage to renew your loans.

You can also check to make sure we have received your returns and see the items we have recalled for you.

A renewal is an extension of your original loan period. A loan cannot be renewed if:

- You have already renewed the item the maximum number of times.
- Another borrower is waiting for the item.
- You are blocked from borrowing.

If you are not able to renew a loan for any reason it must be returned by the due date or you will be fined.

What is your role in the Library?
I am the Associate University Librarian - Scholarly Resources. I have three teams reporting to me: Collection Services, Collection Delivery and the Archives & Heritage Centre.

What do you like most about your job?
I enjoy working with people. I like to work with the teams to provide excellent client service and relevant products.

Why did you choose your current career path?
I have always been passionate about education. I obtained an education degree and worked as a teacher before moving into libraries. I have been working in tertiary and education libraries for more than 25 years.

What book would you recommend others to read and why?
“One hundred years of Solitude”. In this book Garcia Marquez describes all facets of life in a very rich way. The story is complicated including historical facets and very complicated personal lives.

What is your favourite place in the world and why?
Barcelona. It is a lovely city; it has a rich history, great food and fun.

What’s something about yourself that most others wouldn’t know?
I love gardening.
