

New and Emerging Research in Cultural Geography

Organised by IAG Cultural Geography Study Group Convenors: Michelle Duffy, Kaya Barry, Michele Lobo

In this session we showcase cutting-edge research in Cultural Geography. We aim to provide a forum for researchers at all levels – postgraduates, early career, and research leaders, to engage with the conference theme ‘Landscapes of change, challenge and creativity’. Cultural geography comprises a wide-ranging group of geographical sub-disciplines that engages with the arts, humanities, natural and social sciences. Cultural domains of geographical research continue to grow in breadth and depth, with expanding theoretical formulations, methodological approaches and fields of interest. This year’s conference theme is an excellent opportunity to highlight the disciplinary contributions of cultural geography, and its connections to critical debates on landscape and place, creative expression, environmental activism, methodological experimentation, and more, for addressing the changes and challenges that lay ahead.

We welcome your papers that expand the horizon of Cultural Geography! Standard papers/creative or alternative format are warmly welcomed.
