

University of New England PhD Candidates Supervised

Date	Successful Candidate	Thesis Topic
March 2014	Joseph Drew	Empirical Analysis of Australian Local Government
March 2014	Darren Dallinger	Amalgamation in Queensland: Moreton Bay Regional Council Case Study
October 2013	Ting Siew King	Empirical Analysis of Efficiency of Sabah Local Government System in Malaysia
April 2013	Nigel Graves	Budget Compliance Measurement in South African Local Government
October 2012	Ian Tiley	Amalgamation in New South Wales Local Government: Clarence Valley Case Study
April 2012	Bligh Grant	Place-Shaping in Australian Local Government
April 2007	Suzanne O'Keefe	Public Sector Employees' Decisions to Participate In Education and Training: A Choice Modelling Approach
April 2006	Alexander Akimov	An Analysis of the Uzbekistan Banking System
April 2006	Andrew Johnson	Cost Shifting in Australian Local Government: An Empirical Analysis of Pensioner Concessions in New South Wales
April 2001	Graham Marshall	Crafting Cooperation in the Commons: An Economic Analysis of the Prospects for Collaborative Environmental Governance
April 2000	Lin Crase	Measuring Transactions Costs in the Market for Permanent Transfers of Water Entitlements in NSW: An Application of Choice Modelling
May 1998	Judith McNeill	Paying for Growth: An Empirical Examination of the Economics of Developer Chargers in New South Wales Local Government